Dear Parents/Carers

It has been so lovely to see some of the children back at school this week!

Judging by the feedback that we are receiving from you the children are really enjoying their weekly Zoom sessions. I even managed to join the Zoom choir on Wednesday for a short while – it made my day! I am hoping to pop into some class chats to say hello very soon!

We have worked hard on our curriculum design for this period, if you haven't done so already, please take a look on the website for more information in our 'Home Learning' section. Here you will read that we have taken into account some of the research that has been carried out in the field of SEN and then adapted our model accordingly. As you can imagine, we are continually reviewing and adapting our plans as we move forwards:

You may have seen that Mrs Taylor has put together a recipe book from our virtual coffee morning, please take a look and maybe try some of the delicious recipes! Let us know if you do, send us a picture either to the office for the website or post one on the Facebook page!

Don't forget to take a look at the signing information:

A couple of reminders for those children who are returning to school:

- Ensure that you send your child in each day in freshly laundered clothes.
- Do not send your child in with any toys, books, pencils, pens, etc from home – all the equipment that they need at the moment will be provided by the school.

We will continue to consider all parental requests for children to return to school before the summer holidays but please be mindful a return to school is based on a number of deciding factors, the overall one being the health and safety of everyone and our risk assessments also include staff availability, therefore a place may not be possible in a few cases.

Usually at this time of the year, I am planning to let parents and children know about plans for September. Please be reassured that plans are being made but until we receive more guidelines from the government about special schools, I cannot release them as a final plan. I will do my very best to give you all the relevant information as and when I can.

Once again, thank you for your continued support during this time.

Best wishes

Stephanie Coneboy
